Thanks for the update, Rod. Guess I'm not flying to Ukraine!

Hi Erin,

I very much support your messaging and independently came up with many of the same ideas.

Kiev would probably be a conference worth attending, and as I mentioned to Rod this evening, the odds are we could get a last minute speaking slot for Ted as well.

World Blockchain Forum in London may be too pricy and perhaps too late.

Jake-

Thanks for the quick call. As discussed, we are considering having Ted attend the below two conferences:

- d10e in Kiev
- bitkan in HK

The goal would be for Ted to network with and generate interest from high value crypto investors to participate in the Kin token sale. We are looking for guidance on attendees/value to attend and whether you might be able to help us network to connect Ted on the ground.

Let's try to get on a call at 9am ET (or when you're done with your day in Zurich - just text me).

Thank you!
Erin
